4.1 Using the Keyboard

Select letters on the keyboard, words and sentences are formulated (or built) in the message window. Select the (Speak) button when ready to speak.

4.2 Using Predictions

TD Talk offers both Word Prediction and Phrase Prediction which may decrease effort and/or increase speed of producing messages.

4.2.1 Word Predictions

The word prediction engine used in TD Talk is from SwiftKey™ and is commonly used in tablets and smartphones. SwiftKey™ uses a blend of artificial intelligence technologies to predict the next word the user intends to type. SwiftKey™ learns from previous texts the user has written and offers predictions or presents predictions based on the current input text and what it has learned. The Word Prediction language will change depending on the Keyboard Language setting.

When Word Prediction is in use, four (4) boxes will appear above the Keyboard. The leftmost box will display the most probable predicted word, and the remaining three (3) boxes will contain one predicted word each. To select a predicted word, select the box with the correct word in it. If you can't find the word you are looking for, just keep on typing, and the word you are looking for may appear after the next character(s).

If you are using Word Prediction and want to type a word containing an accent, like café you will save time and effort by letting Word Prediction handle the accent. Simply type "cafe", and you will get a suggestion for "café".

4.2.2 Phrase Prediction

TD Talk learns and analyses how you speak over time. Word prediction learns the words you say. Phrase prediction learns how you put those words together forming a personal phrase set. When you start typing, predicted phrases from your phrase set will be offered in the Message Window in grey text.

Select the predicted phrase by fixating the gaze on the phrase. The color on the phrase will change from grey to black indicating that it has been selected. it can now be spoken or edited.
